Prenatal Care Checkups

What is prenatal care and why is it important?

Prenatal care is medical care you get while pregnant. At each check-up, your doctor checks on you and your growing baby. As soon as you know you are pregnant, call your doctor to schedule your first check-up. Go to all your prenatal care checkups, even if you are feeling fine. Going to the doctor can help you have a healthy baby and pregnancy. Your doctor cannot share anything about you, to anyone, without your permission. So do not be afraid to tell her about things that may be uncomfortable or embarrassing.

Who can you go to for prenatal care?

We have many doctors who you can choose from. Call 712-243-2850 to make an appointment.

How often do you go for prenatal care checkups?

Most pregnant women can follow a schedule like this:

- Up to week 28: 1 prenatal visit a month
- Weeks 28 to 36: 1 prenatal visit every 2 weeks
- Weeks 36 to 40: 1 prenatal visit every week

If you are older than 35 or your pregnancy is high risk, you will probably see your doctor more often. Your partner or support person (a friend or someone from your family) is welcome at your prenatal checkups.

What happens at a prenatal care appointment?

At your first prenatal check-up, your doctor will review your medical history. She likely will perform a complete physical examination as well as urine and blood tests during this visit.

At each visit, your doctor will check you and your baby. She will talk with you about the things you can do help you and your baby stay healthy. Your doctor may also order blood tests and imaging tests, such as an ultrasound.

What will prenatal care cost?

We want you to also meet with our Patient Financial Advisors when you are pregnant. They can help you with health insurance and explain how prenatal care appointments and hospital stay are billed. You need to make an appointment to see our advisors by calling them at 712-250-8041. You will need to bring important documents with you, such as your passport and I-94 number.

Each prenatal checkup is important for a healthy pregnancy.

No matter how far along you are when you find out you are pregnant, seeing a doctor is important. Babies of mothers who do not get prenatal care are three times more likely to have a low birth weight and have birth complications. Seeing your doctor regularly helps ensure you have the healthiest pregnancy possible.
